Richard Harwood OBE QC specialises in planning, environment and public law, acting for developers, landowners, central and local government, individuals and interest groups. He appears in the courts, inquiries, examinations and hearings, including frequently in the Planning Court and appellate courts. Voted as one of the top ten Planning Silks in Planning magazine's 2014 and 2015 surveys, he has appeared in many of the leading cases of recent years. Richard is also a leading commentator, a case editor of the Journal of Planning and Environment Law and the author of books including Planning Enforcement, Historic Environment Law and the forthcoming Planning Permission. He lives in Winchester.

Richard Wald was called to the bar in 1997. He specializes in Planning, Environmental and associated areas of JR. He is General Editor of Thompson's Encyclopaedia of Environmental Law, a contributor to Tromans on EIA Law and Practice and Co-author of Butterworth's Highways Law and Practice. He was appointed to the AG's B-Panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown in 2009 and is regularly ranked by the main directories in the areas of Environmental Law and Planning Law.

Jonathan Darby's broad practice encompasses all aspects of public and administrative law. His planning, environmental and property practice encompasses inquiries, statutory appeals, judicial review, enforcement proceedings and advisory work. Jonathan is instructed by a wide variety of domestic and international clients, including developers, consultants, local authorities and the Treasury Solicitor. He is listed as one of the top junior planning barristers under 35 in the Planning Magazine Guide to Planning Lawyers. Before coming to the Bar, Jonathan taught at Cambridge University whilst completing a PhD at Queens' College.
