Dear Meridian 180 member,

I hope this finds you well as the summer heat cools into autumn. We would like to invite you to take advantage of an exciting opportunity to listen to a talk by fellow Meridian 180 member Deok Joo Rhee, British Barrister and Queen's Counsel (QC), on the subject of Human Rights and Private Entities. The lecture will be held at Ewha Womans University, 6:30 pm on September 18 (Monday).

Deok Joo Rhee QC, a barrister with the prestigious 39 Essex Chambers mentored by acclaimed lawyer and former British first lady Cherie Blair, specializes in European Union economic and social policy. Earlier this year she was appointed Queen's Counsel, a highly prestigious designation for the most capable lawyers in the Commonwealth. She is the first lawyer of Korean heritage to be given this honor. Some of you may have met her in Brussels at the Meridian 180 2017 Global Summit.

Boxed dinners will be provided at the lecture, which will begin at 7:00 pm. Participants are encouraged to come in as early as 6:30 pm to have dinner in advance and chat. There will be Q&A afterward where the audience can ask questions to Deok Joo Rhee QC about her talk or any other issue. The lecture will be in English, with English-Korean translation provided for the Q&A session.

Deok Joo has litigated major EU, constitutional, and international law cases determining the EU's competence and the interface of EU and domestic law, including issues of state procurement, employment law, and state aid. As a specialist in EU and constitutional law she speaks regularly to the media including the BBC on the tangled legal issues surrounding Brexit, such as in this interview clip: <http://www.gettyimages.dk/detail/video/supreme-court-hearing-on-article-50-ends-gir-deok-joo-news-footage/642302212>

Her considerable expertise with the boundaries between the state, private organizations, and individuals makes her singularly qualified to comment on this subject at a time when private entities loom increasingly large in both the private and public spheres. This is, in many ways, the frontier and future of human rights. Don't miss this opportunity to hear an expert speak on this crucial subject and to meet with a rising international star in the legal world.
